

2011 Scientific Anglers Spey Line Recommendations

The following chart represents our spey line recommendations for various fly rod manufacturerers. As we gather more information, more rod manufacturerers will be added.

These recommendations are to be used as a guideline to help in finding the right line combo for a specific fly rod. Everyone's casting preferences are different and some users may find that their casting style yields to a slightly heavier or lighter line. Therefore, these recommendations are just that - recommendations - and should be treated as such.

For information regarding a specific two hand rod's grain window, contact the rod manufacturer.

Scientific Anglers is not responsible if a line does not load a rod as desired. Furthermore, cutting, splicing, or altering fly lines is not recommended.
